Church Camp Child Protection Screening Declaration

Anyone who works face-to-face with children in a paid, self-employed or voluntary capacity, must have a Working With Children Check (WWC) clearance, unless they qualify for an exemption¹.

When participating in combined-church camps, the following process is recommended to assist each church meet their legal and record keeping requirements under the Child Protection (Working with Children) Act 2012 and its Regulation 2013:

- Each church will ensure that every adult (18 years and older) attending a camp on behalf of their church has been verified under the WWC clearance, or has a completed Check application in progress. They will also verify a WWCC for all parent volunteers attending overnight kids camps, with their own child (Clause 20(2) of the WWC Regulation).
- Each church will complete the 'Church Camp Child Protection Screening Declaration' listing the full names of each child-related worker who has a verified WWCC
- Each church will distribute a copy of their completed Child Camp Child Protection Screening Declaration to the other attending Churches
- Each church is responsible for securely storing records on a confidential file and retaining as evidence of their own WWCC compliance.
